My Dear James

I am delighted to hear to such favorable accounts of Calhoun, and hope he will make up for lost time, so that his headaches have left him.

I always felt you he would not study at home. Florida and himself are now showing what they can do. Patrick, to say the least of it, is a shabby fellow to stay so long at New York, and not attend to my interest from the work.

I do not know what I will do, if I do not get the money soon, as I am at considerable expense here and will require it, and I am compelled to make some purchases for my house. Do write him to interest himself for me, as he will have it now in his power, than Mr Benson, as Dr Patrick, must hear of Mr Ball's whereabouts.
I wish when Mr Benson writes to James, that he will say I expect him to send me on the papers giving me a right to his portion of the work, as he promised me, and now I will require it, and that Mr James, must answer my many letters, written him. We had the child christened, and several of our friends were present, among them Mr Genl. Baxter. We had iced fruit cake wine &c, and it was christened out of a superb silver vase belonging to the Hotel.

The child's name is William Lower Des, and I am sure his father thinks as little of him.
Kate, and the child are doing well I hope we will leave in ten days from this time. We sent William, to St. Augustine, with the Barriar, and houses last week. Lizzy Webb, is to be married on Tuesday next, to Mr Granger Simmons. Great preparations are making for the occasion. Four hundred persons are invited. She will be married at Floride Carniflames, and the next day goes to Mr Simmons house.

He has six children. I will be present to the wedding, and then leave, as it will be unpleasant to meet so many persons. After it is all over I will give you an account of the proceedings. Love to all, Kate joins me, and Willy, also, and Lou to go, and Kipper & little Cornelia.

your devoted mother Floride Calhoun.
